May 2017

The pedestrian pathway under the rail bridge between Corinda Court and Urangan Court, Helensvale, will remain closed until the end of June 2017 to facilitate track works.

The path will be reopened to the public when it is safe to do so, with traffic management controls in place to manage pedestrian access for the remainder of the project.

For the safety of community members and project workers, access around the work zone is restricted. Safety is Queensland Rail's number one priority.
