

Coomera to Helensvale Duplication

Site office establishment – Rosedale Place

May 2016

Queensland Rail is duplicating the final section of single track on the Gold Coast line, between Coomera and Helensvale stations. The Coomera to Helensvale Duplication involves duplicating 8.2 kilometres of track and eight rail bridges, installing overhead electrification and signalling systems, and replacing 3.8 kilometres of timber barrier fencing.

In mid-May 2016, the project will establish a ‘satellite’ site office and rail corridor access point in the easement off Rosedale Place, Helensvale.

The ‘satellite’ site office will provide facilities for project personnel when they are working in the area, including a demountable office building and toilets. A portion of the fenced facility will be used as a parking area for construction vehicles and to store machinery and materials closer to works in the rail corridor.

As a primary access point to the rail corridor, Rosedale Place will facilitate access for light and heavy construction vehicles and material deliveries. The current four-metre opening in the timber barrier will be extended to enable access to the construction zone for large vehicles.

Overview of work
